

POT OF FUN The outlandish Los Angeles-based designer Jeremy Scott lends his hand to Adidas for its Originals by Originals collection. His exuberant take on fashion has certainly not been diluted: signature leopards, leopardprint and fun detailing adorn the streetwear line. Animal Hoodie £140; trainers, £135 (0870-240 4204; shop.adidas.co.uk).

MAN-MADE PLEASURES Vivienne Westwood clearly has a thing for plastic at the moment: a third collaboration with the Brazilian rubber shoe brand Melissa has just hit stores and Pamela Anderson is fronting the new campaign. Melissa Plastic Dreams, £70 (melissaplasticdreams.com).

STAR BUY

ALL YOU NEED IS CASH

Stella McCartney gives us some comic relief – creating this year's most fashionable charity T-shirt using images of Morecambe and Wise taken by David Bailey, and of the Beatles shot by Linda McCartney. Unisex Red Nose Day T-shirt, £9.99, available from TK Maxx (rednoseday.com).

Retail therapy for men, by Clare Richardson

WATCH OUT Move over Brad Pitt. Leonardo DiCaprio is the next star to sign up as Tag Heuer's ambassador – a role Pitt had for six years. Being a committed environmentalist (he drives an electric car and lives in a solar-panelled house), DiCaprio is donating the royalties generated from the three-year contract to environmental initiatives. In this picture he wears the Carrera Day-Date watch, £2,495, available at TAG Heuer Boutique at Westfield (020-8735 4071).

TWO-FACED Peckham Rye, the burgeoning British neckwear brand that counts David Beckham and Mark Ronson as fans, has produced a range of reversible scarves: tartan on one side and silk on the other. £165, available exclusively at 20ftd.com (peckhamryelondon.com).

RETRO RUNNING Puma has delved into its archive and created an exclusive track jacket for JD Sports. The design is based on the T7 cult classic from the 1970s and ideal to get you noticed while burning the winter flab. Track jacket, £34.99 (jdsports.co.uk).

THREE OF THE BEST PASTEL STRIPED SHIRTS Purple and pink, £39.50, Marks & Spencer (0845-302 1234); peach and white, £199, Paul Smith (020-7379 7133); blue and white with red stitching, £12.50, Garbstore (020-7229 2178).

NOT SO MELLOW YELLOW If you need an injection of colour in your wardrobe look no further than Martin Margiela's new neon-yellow old-school trainers being sold at Matches. £178 (matchesfashion.com).
